Risk to Investors

For details, refer to section titled "Risk Factors" on page 36 of the RHP.

1. A significant portion of our operating revenue comes from a small number of customers with whom we do not have long term contracts:

Our revenue is highly concentrated, with our top 1 customer accounted for 28.57%, 32.97%, 44.35%, and 37.26% of total revenue while our top 10 customers accounted for 79.74%, 85.98%, 82.94% and 86.36% of total revenue during the six months ended September 30, 2025, and for Fiscal 2025, 2024, and 2023, respectively. This concentration, coupled with our reliance on purchase orders rather than long-term contracts, exposes us to significant risk. Any loss of, or reduction in orders from, one or more key customers, due to commercial, financial, or competitive factors, could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows, and financial condition. While we have not faced any material losses due to loss of any key customer during the six months ended September 30, 2025 and in the last three Fiscal, there can be no assurance that we will such adverse event customers in the future.

2. Our Manufacturing Facility and Registered Office are located in Gujarat, and a significant portion of our revenue is also derived from the state of Gujarat, India.

Our Manufacturing Facility and Registered Office are located in Gondal, Rajkot, Gujarat. Majority share of our revenues across the six months ended September 30, 2025 and the last three Fiscal has been generated from Gujarat, resulting in high geographic concentration.

This concentration exposes us to risks from local or regional disruptions such as regulatory changes, labour issues, infrastructure constraints, natural calamities, political or social unrest, or public health emergencies, any of which could adversely affect our operations and sales. While we have not experienced any material disruptions during the six months ended September 30, 2025 and in the last three Fiscal, there is no assurance that such events will not occur in the future. Any significant disruption in Gujarat could materially and disproportionately impact our business, financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows.

3. We are dependent on a limited number of suppliers for procurement of cotton bales

Cotton bales are our principal raw material and form the largest component of our production costs, accounting for a significant portion of revenue across periods. Our cost competitiveness therefore depends on the timely availability of cotton bales of acceptable quality at commercially viable prices. We procure cotton primarily through brokers from ginning mills across major cotton-growing regions, and our supplier base remains relatively concentrated.

This concentration, coupled with the absence of long-term supply contracts and the inherent volatility in cotton prices, exposes us to risks related to supply disruptions, price fluctuations, quality variations, and limited visibility on volumes and costs. While we maintain buffer inventories during the harvest season to mitigate supply risk, any mismatch between demand and procurement, deterioration in cotton quality, or inability to pass on cost increases may adversely affect our margins and operations. Although we have not faced material disruptions during the six months ended September 30, 2025 and in the last three Fiscal, any prolonged supply constraints or price shocks could materially impact our business, financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows.

4. Our business is significantly reliant on revenue derived from our major products i.e. Carded Cotton Yarn, Combed Cotton Yarn, Organic Yarn and ELI Twist Yarn.

Our business is significantly reliant on revenue from Carded Cotton Yarn, Combed Cotton Yarn, Organic Yarn and ELI Twist Yarn, which collectively accounted for 83.49% of our revenue from operations for the six months ended September 30, 2025, 87.96% for Fiscal 2025, 87.85% for Fiscal 2024, and 88.47% for Fiscal 2023. A decline in demand, pricing pressures, or adverse developments in the spinning or textile industry, including shifts in customer preferences, excess production capacity, increased competition, or a slowdown in downstream sectors, could materially impact our financial performance. Furthermore, external factors such as fluctuations in raw cotton prices, climatic conditions affecting yield, supply chain disruptions, and changes in regulatory frameworks (e.g. MSP revisions, export restrictions) could adversely affect our input costs, inventory, and competitiveness, ultimately impacting our revenue, margins, and financial stability.

5. We have not entered into a definitive agreement for the proposed 4.2 MW wind power project, and any delay or failure in execution may adversely affect our cost structure and energy strategy.

We propose to set up a 4.2 MW captive wind power plant to meet part of our electricity requirements and reduce long-term dependence on grid power. The project is intended to be implemented on an EPC basis by Suzlon Energy Limited and funded entirely from the Net Proceeds of the Issue. However, as of the date of this Red Herring Prospectus, no definitive or binding EPC agreement has been executed.

The absence of a finalized agreement exposes us to risks including delays in execution, inability to conclude commercial terms, cost escalation, changes in technical specifications, and postponement of the proposed commissioning timeline (December 2026), which may defer anticipated operational and cost benefits.

The project is intended to complement our solar initiatives and enable renewable energy optimization under the energy banking framework of the Gujarat Electricity Regulatory Commission Green Energy Open Access Regulations, 2024. Any delay or failure may limit our ability to utilize the permitted banking limits and reduce the expected synergy between wind and solar generation.

Further, as the project is entirely dependent on the Net Proceeds, any delay in the IPO process, under-subscription, or change in fund allocation may impact implementation. In such event, we would remain dependent on grid electricity, which accounts for a meaningful portion of our cost structure and is subject to tariff and supply risks.

Accordingly, any delay or failure in executing a binding agreement for the proposed wind power project may materially and adversely affect our operations, cost efficiency, and long-term strategic objectives.

6. We are subject to stringent quality requirements from our institutional buyers and end-use industries.

Our business involves manufacturing ring-spun cotton yarn for institutional buyers who have strict quality requirements. Consistent compliance with parameters such as strength, uniformity, and twist is critical to maintaining customer relationships and repeat orders.

The spinning process requires precise control across multiple stages, and any process deviation, equipment failure, operator error, or inconsistency in cotton quality may result in defects, leading to customer complaints, rejection of consignments, or order cancellations. While we have not faced material quality-related rejections during the six months ended September 30, 2025 and in the last three Fiscals, any lapse in meeting required standards could damage our reputation, affect customer confidence, and result in loss of business. Failure to maintain or upgrade our quality systems in line with evolving customer expectations could adversely impact our revenues, growth, and financial performance.

7. If we are unable to accurately forecast customer demand and maintain optimal inventory levels of cotton bales and finished yarn.

Our operations depend on accurate demand forecasting to align raw material procurement, production, and inventory levels. We procure cotton seasonally and maintain buffer stocks and finished goods inventory to support year-round production and meet short-lead customer orders. Any error in forecasting may result in under-stocking, leading to delayed deliveries and loss of business, or over-stocking, resulting in higher storage and financing costs, working capital pressure, and potential quality deterioration.

Although we have not experienced material inventory obsolescence during the six months ended September 30, 2025 and in the last three Fiscals, our inventory levels and turnover are sensitive to changes in demand, market conditions, and external factors. Any prolonged mismatch between demand and inventory could adversely affect our cost structure, cash flows, working capital, and overall financial condition.

8. We rely on brokers and agents for the sale of our yarn. Any disruption in our relationships with such intermediaries or failure to manage their performance may adversely affect our business, results of operations, and financial condition.

Our yarn sales are primarily facilitated through independent brokers and agents who act as intermediaries with institutional buyers, bulk customers, and merchant exporters. These relationships are generally informal and non-exclusive, without long-term contractual arrangements, and brokers may discontinue their association with us at any time.

We depend on this network to access customers and generate a significant portion of our revenues, and we pay commissions as part of these arrangements. Any increase in commission costs, higher reliance on a limited number of brokers, or loss or disruption of key intermediaries could lead to reduced order volumes, delayed collections, or margin pressure. While we have not experienced material disruptions in recent periods, any adverse change in our broker and agent relationships could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

9. Delays or defaults in payments by our customers could increase our working capital requirements, impact our cash flows, and adversely affect our financial performance and condition.

We are exposed to the risk of delays and/or defaults in payments from our customers, which can directly impact our working capital cycle, profitability, and liquidity.

Our trade receivables as on September 30, 2025, and Fiscals 2025, 2024, and 2023 stood at ₹2,721.89 lakhs, ₹3,195.76 lakhs, ₹4,450.13 lakhs and ₹2,080.68 lakhs, respectively. The trade receivable turnover ratio (i.e., revenue from operations divided by average gross trade receivables) for the six-month period ended September 30, 2025, and Fiscals 2025, 2024, and 2023 was 4.46 times, 6.67 times, 7.09 times and 9.91 times, respectively, with trade receivable days at 38 days, 38 days, 58 days and 29 days, for the same periods. Any material adverse change in customer payment behaviour, a rise in bad debts, or concentration of credit exposure could negatively affect our financial performance, operating cash flows, and overall business operations. The absence of a formal credit policy further exposes us to credit risk.
